

FLUID SAMPLING

Surface Sampling

Our advanced sampling methods determine the amount of liquid carryover in the separator gas line when conditions are stable and separation efficiency is poor.

Downhole Sampling

Compositional and PVT analysis of formation samples requires recovered samples to remain in downhole conditions. Various downhole samplers allow controlled, uncontaminated sampling without flashing.